ABSTRACT

Upper division enrollments by field of study were surveyed in Fall 1975 as part of the 10th annual Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) for the first time since 1967. This report provides summary data on these enrollments by state or other area, institution name, institutional control and level, full- and part-time enrollment, sex, and discipline division and specialty. The information is intended for educational planners, and may be used in projecting future availability of trained manpower. The report form for this portion of the HEGIS survey is appended. (MSE)

FALL 1975
SUMMARY DATA

HE010964

HIGHLIGHTS

1. In fall 1975, there were 2,266,605 students enrolled as upper-division students.

2. This total showed the following percentage breakdowns:
   72.0 percent in publicly controlled and 28.0 percent in privately controlled institutional units;
   56.1 percent were men and 43.9 percent were women;
   82.5 percent were full-time and 17.5 percent were part-time.

3. The three discipline divisions showing the highest upper-division enrollment were:
   a. Business and management—365,778 (16.1 percent of the total);
   b. Education—339,565 (15.0 percent of the total);
   c. Social Sciences—260,622 (11.5 percent of the total).

FOREWORD

Upper-division enrollments by field of study were surveyed in fall 1975 as part of the 10th annual Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). This was the first time since 1967 that NCES has collected such data. The traditional survey instrument "Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees" was expanded to include upper-division data as well.

This publication provides summary data on upper-division enrollments by State or other area, institutional control and level, and discipline division and specialty. It is hoped the educational planners will find it useful in projecting future availability of trained manpower. Institutional listings are not being published, but may be reproduced for special studies upon request.

Data relating to students enrolled for first-professional, master's, and doctor's degrees are published in a separate report entitled "Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees, Fall 1975."

Most of the work on this study was performed in the former Division of Survey Planning and Analysis and its Higher Education Surveys Branch, headed by Theodore H. Drews and Edith M. Huddleston, respectively.

The cooperation of the college and university officials who supplied the institutional reports has made possible a response rate of 100 percent. The continued efforts and interest of the survey respondents and the State coordinators are deeply appreciated.

SURVEY ORGANIZATION AND METHODOLOGY

Purpose of the Survey

The purpose of collecting upper-division enrollment data is two-fold: (1) to provide data for predicting changes in numbers of bachelor's degrees to be awarded by field; (2) to provide data for predicting potential new graduate enrollments by field.

Survey Universe

Institutions Included

This report is based on data furnished by 1,658 institutional units. (An institutional unit is a separately organized campus or branch, which may be either independent or part of a larger university or a State system.

All universities and other 4-year institutional units in the higher education universe of the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) for the 1975-76 academic year[1] were sent the questionnaire "Upper Division and Post-baccalaureate Enrollment by Degree Field, Fall 1975". (The questionnaire,with instructions to respondents,is reproduced in the appendix.) The 1,658 institutional units were, as far as NCES could determine, the only ones enrolling students at the upper-division level in fall 1975.

Data on students enrolled for first-professional, master's, and doctor's degrees are published in Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees, Fall 1975.

Students Included

This survey included all upper-division students (juniors and seniors) enrolled for 4- or 5-year baccalaureate degrees. An upper-division student is one who has completed more than one-half of a 4-year, or more than two-fifths of a 5-year, undergraduate program which terminates in a degree, usually measured by the number of credits earned as a proportion of the number of credits required for graduation.

Students Excluded

Students excluded from the survey were those:

1. working for a bachelor's degree but not formally enrolled for the fall term;
2. enrolled in curriculums or courses that would not terminate in a bachelor's degree;
3. enrolled at a branch or an extension center in a foreign country.

No upper-division students are reported in part A of the form, since that part related only to students enrolled for first-professional degrees. Students in these programs would not receive 4- or 5-year bachelor's degrees at the completion of these programs.

[1] For a description of the higher education survey universe see Fall Enrollment in Higher Education, 1975 (NCES 76-135). The Education Directory of Higher Education, 1974-75 (NCES 75-119) was the primary source for the list of units included in the survey universe, supplemented by any changes in fall 1975 known to NCES.

Major Classifications of Data

Attendance Status

Students were classified as either full or part time. As in prior surveys, a full-itme student was one whose academic load was at least 75 percent of the normal student workload (course work or other required activity) as defined by the institution. All students carrying less than 75 percent of the normal load were classified as part time.

Discipline Specialty

The classification of discipline specialties follows A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education.[2] This was adopted by HEGIS in 1970 and is maintained to provide comparability of data on a continuing basis.

Type of Control

Reporting units were classified as either "public" or "private" according to their classification in the Education Directory of Higher Education.[3]

Type of Institution

Selected tables in the report classify reporting units in two categories: "universities" and "other 4-year institutions." Universities are units that give considerable stress to graduate instruction, confer advanced as well as bachelor's degrees in a variety of liberal arts fields, and have at least two professional schools that are not exclusively technological. Other units offering 4 or more years of college-level work, but not meeting the criteria for classification as universities, make up the "other 4-year" category.

This classification of institutional units by level should not be confused with the official name of any institutional unit or system.

Data Collection

A copy of the survey form,with accompanying instructions and definitions (see appendix),was addressed to the president of each institutional unit listed in the survey universe, or, in more than one-half of the States, to a State coordinator who supplied the data from information submitted by the institutional units or coordinated the data collection with all or selected institutional units in the State. Followup letters and phone calls were made to State coordinators or institutional officials whose data had not been received within a reasonable period after the due date of November 30, 1975.

Data Verification

Three methods were utilized to verify the reasonableness of data submitted by each institutional unit:

(1) A computer check for field-by-field comparison with the data submitted for the previous year was made. This procedure helped to determine whether the reported numbers varied by more than a predetermined percentage from the previous year's report. The acceptable difference was based on the order of magnitude of the data-field size: the greater the number of students, the lower the percentage of difference permitted.

(2) Survey forms containing data items identified by the computer check as out-of-range were examined visually by survey personnel to determine whether footnotes, explanatory notes, or readily recognizable human errors accounted for the differences. Where necessary, catalogs of the institutional units were consulted for institutional offerings.

(3) Finally, the remaining problems were resolved by correspondence or telephone contact with State coordinators and institutional representatives.

Internal checks for consistency included the checking of accumulated totals against subtotals obtained from appropriate subsets of the data.

The survey instructions requested institutional units to classify enrollments for advanced degrees according to major field of study and to do so as specifically as the list of specialties in the broad discipline divisions permitted. For example, a student of educational psychology specializing in teaching the mentally retarded should have been reported under "Education of the mentally retarded" (code 0810), rather than under the somewhat broader category of "Education psychology" (code 0822) or the broadest available category, "Education, general" (code 0801). In practice, however, institutional units can report data only to the level of detail provided in their individual recordkeeping systems. For some individual programs, therefore, readers may observe differences between the categorizations with which they are familiar and those shown in the institutional unit listings.

CURRENT DATA AND RECENT TRENDS

Prior to 1975, the only survey of upper-division enrollment conducted by NCES through HEGIS covered the fall term of 1967. Unfortunately, the 1967 survey instrument did not provide for the same breakdowns that the 1975 instrument did. In 1967 there were no breakdowns for full time and part time, nor for men and women. In addition, since 1967 HEGIS has changed its classification of instructional programs so that data for the 2 years are not comparable by field. More recently, there has been a change in the manner in which HEGIS aggregates data by institutional level. This leaves only a minimum number of factors that are comparable in definition: total number of upper-division students (juniors and seniors) and control of institutional unit (public and private).

In attempting to make comparisons with data from other HEGIS surveys, similar problems occur. Changes in the collection of opening fall enrollment data make those not strictly comparable between 1967 and 1975. Data on degrees conferred were also affected by the change in the classsificaiton of instructional programs.

What does show up in the little trend comparison that is possible is further emphasis of the decline in enrollments in private colleges and universities. Table A compares the number and percentage of upper-division students in public and private institutional units in 1967 and 1975.

Table A.––Upper-division enrollment, by control of institutional unit: Aggregate United States, fall 1967 and fall 1975,and increase 1967 to 1975

Table B compares some recent data on the distribution of bachelor's degrees with the distribution of upper-division enrollment in fall 1975. Similar, and more extensive, comparisons will be made, when adequate data on bachelor's degrees are available, to determine the extent to which the upper-division data can point to future trends with respect to bachelor's degrees.

Attendance Status

Table C shows the part-time enrollment by discipline division, both numbers and percentages. It is interesting to note that only four division (business and management, computer and information sciences, public affairs and services, and interdisciplinary studies) show percentages of part-time enrollment higher than the percentage of part-time for all divisions. These four account for 38.7 percent of all part-time upper-division enrollment. (The figures for interdisciplinary studies are inflated because many upper-division students who have not declared a major are classified under "4901, general liberal arts and sciences.")

Of the divisions enrolling at least 1,000 part-time students, those showing the lowest percentage of part-time enrollment were: agriculture and natural resources, theology, home economics, and communications.

Men and Women

Table D shows the percentage of enrollment by sex, and by discipline division. Those divisions in which the percentage of women is considerably higher or lower than the average are the traditional ones. Women show enrollments higher than men in: area studies, education, fine arts, foreign languages, health professions, home economics, letters, library science, and psychology, the same fields in which bachelor's degrees granted to women exceeded those granted to men in 1974-75.

The divisions in which women comprised less than 30 percent of the enrollment were: agriculture and natural resources, architecture and environmental design, business and management, computer and information sciences, engineering, law, military sciences, physical sciences, and theology. These are the same fields in which fewer than 30 percent of the bachelor's degrees were awarded to women in 1974-75.

Enrollment by Sex Within Discipline Division

Table E shows seven divisions with the highest percentage of upper-division enrollment of men compared with the seven divisions with the highest percentage of bachelor's degrees awarded in 1974-75.[4] Table F provides similar data for women. Note that the rankings of these divisions for men differ only in the 6th and 7th positions. On the other hand, the rankings for women differ considerably. While women's degrees in business ranked 7th, they ranked 4th in upper-division enrollment. Health professions ranked 3rd in degrees and 2nd in upper-division enrollment. It would appear that there is considerable change occurring in the fields in which women are specializing.

[4] Enrollment in interdisciplinary studies is not counted among the top 7 divisions, because most upper-division students who do not have a recorded major are included in interdisciplinary.

The primary use of upper-division enrollment data should be to predict the number of bachelor's degrees over the next 2 years (subsequent to the time of enrollment) by field. Unfortunately, because we have only 1 year of upper-division enrollment data with its associated bachelor's degrees, and that almost a decade ago, no such projections are possible based on the 1975 survey. What we can offer is a basis for projections when additional data are available.

In 1967, there were 1,560,298 upper-division enrollments. Over the succeeding 2 years, bachelor's degrees were conferred which would account for approximately 88 percent of these enrollments. (See table G.). When the data for bachelor's degrees conferred in 1975-76 and 1976-77 are available, a similar comparison with upper-division enrollments for fall 1975 can be made, including field-by-field comparisons.

Table G.––Upper-division enrollment in fall 1967 compared with bachelor's degrees conferred in 1967-68 and 1968-69, by control of institution: Aggregate United States

Type of control	Upper-division enrollment fall 1967	Bachelor's degrees conferred
		1967-68		1968-69
		Number	Percent of 1967 UD enrollment	Number	Percent of 1968 UD enrollment
All institutions	1,560,298	637,337	40.8	734,002	47.0
Publicly controlled	1,006,858	393,851	39.1	466,133	46.3
Privately controlled	553,440	243,486	44.0	267,869	48.4

While the discipline division categories are not comparable between 1967 and 1975, they are comparable for earned degrees conferred in 1974-75 and upper-division enrollment, fall 1975. During the 1974-75 year, the three divisions in which the greatest number of bachelor's degrees were conferred were:

Education: 168,749 or 18.1 percent of the total;
Social sciences: 136,773 or 14.7 percent of the total;
Business and management: 135,455 or 14.5 percent of the total;

Compare these data with those for upper-division enrollment, fall 1975:

Business and management: 365,778 or 16.1 percent of the total;
Education: 339,565 or 15.0 percent of the total;
Social sciences: 260,622 or 11.5 percent of the total.

While a comparison of these two sets of data is insufficient for predictions, it does seem to confirm a continuance of trends currently in evidence with respect to bachelor's degrees. Since 1970-71, the number of bachelor's degrees in both education and the social sciences has declined, while the number in business and management has continued to increase. It does appear likely that by the 1976-77 year, the discipline division in which the largest number of bachelor's degrees will be awarded will be business and management.

PRESENTATION AND COMPARABILITY OF THE DATA

Basic Tables

This report contains 5 basic tables. Since NCES has conducted no survey of upper-division students since 1967, these tables are not comparable to tables in any other publications.

Table 1 gives a summary of upper-division students by level of institutional unit and type of control.

Table 2 shows counts, by State or other area, of upper-division students.

Table 3 presents counts by discipline division.

Table 4 provides counts of upper-division enrollments by discipline specialty.

Table 5 provides upper-division enrollment by institutional unit.

Institutional Data

Tables showing the number of upper-division students by discipline specialty and by institutional unit are available in a photocopy form for special studies. The supply is limited and copies are available only on request by writing to:

DEFINITIONS

MULTI-CAMPUS INSTITUTION. An organization bearing a resemblance to an institutional system, but unequivocally designated as a single institution with either of two organizational structures: (1) an institution having two or more campuses responsible to a central administration (which central administration may or may not be located on one of the administratively equal campuses) or (2) an institution having a main campus with one or more branch campuses attached to it.

MAIN CAMPUS. In those institutions comprised of a main campus and one or more branch campuses, the main campus (sometimes called the parent institution) is usually the location of the core, primary, or most comprehensive program. Unless the institution-wide or central administrative office for such institutions is reported to be at a different location, the main campus is also the location of the central administrative office.

BRANCH CAMPUS. A campus of an institution of higher education which is organized on a relatively permanent basis (i.e., has a relatively permanent administration), which offers an organized program or programs of work of at least 2 years (as opposed to courses), and which is located in a community different from that in which its parent institution is located. To be considered in a community different from that of the parent institution, a branch shall be located beyond a reasonable commuting distance from the main campus of the parent institution.

INSTITUTIONAL SYSTEM. A complex of two or more institutions of higher education, each separately organized or independently complete, under the control or supervision of a single administrative body.

SURVEY COVERAGE

A. PURPOSE. The purpose of this survey is to ascertain the number of students enrolled this term at the upper-division level (junior and senior years) for baccalaureate degrees, and at the post-baccalaureate level for advanced degrees, by the students' fields of specialization, and a summary total of the numbers of post-baccalaureate students not enrolled for degrees.

B. SCOPE OF THE SURVEY. This is NOT a survey of all students, but of all students identifiable as upper-division undergraduate (juniors and seniors) and post-baccalaureate. First- and second-year undergraduates and students unclassifiable by level are not included.

1. Students to be INCLUDED in the report:

   a. INCLUDE IN PART A students enrolled for first-professional degrees in programs which require at least 2 academic years of previous college work for entrance and which require a total of at least 6 academic years of college work for completion. For example, include students enrolled for first-professional degrees in Law (LL.B. or J.D.), Medicine (M.D.), etc. as specified on the form. Students enrolled for degrees beyond the first-professional in these fields, or not enrolled for degrees, should be reported in Part B.

   b. INCLUDE IN PART B. All upper-division students, and all post-baccalaureate students not reported in Part A, including: all other students enrolled for master's degrees; for 6-year degrees such as Education Specialist (Ed.S.), Civil Engineer (C.E.), etc.; for doctoral degrees (Ph.D., Ed.D., etc.); and (on line 465 only) those enrolled for no degree at all but still identifiable as post-baccalaureate students.

2. Students to be EXCLUDED from this report:

   a. Students who, although known to be working on degree requirements, are not formally enrolled for study or dissertation this term.

   b. Students enrolled at a branch or extension center in a foreign country.

C. CLASSIFICATION OF MAJOR FIELDS OF STUDY: Classification of the major fields of study used in this survey has been presented in the following publication:

U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Office of Education, National Center for Educational Statistics. A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education. By Robert A. Huff and Marjorie O. Chandler, OE–50064–70. Washington: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1970. Price: $ .45.

D. EXHIBIT ITEMS:

First-time students in fall 1975. Report the number of graduate students (in each discipline division) who have completed less than one full year of required graduate study and who enroll for an advanced degree for the first time in fall 1975. This number will be smaller than the total number of students in their first full year of required graduate study, because it is restricted to those in their first year who have not been enrolled for the advanced degree prior to the fall term 1975.

Doctoral candidates who have completed all but dissertation. Report the number of doctoral candidates who, as of the fall of 1975, have completed all course and other requirements for the degree except for the presentation and defense of the doctoral dissertation.

NOTE: Listings of data for individual institutions are regularly included in published reports of this survey.

See GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS and also the separate instructions provided for each of Parts A and B.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. Time period. Report only those students enrolled as of the fall term of the current academic year (1975-76).

2. Institutional coverage. A separate report is requested from each branch or member of a system, as well as from each entirely independent institution and each "parent" institution. Please provide the information requested in item 6 on the cover page, which is intended to permit complete identification of the reporting unit. Do not include students enrolled by branches of your institution located in foreign countries.

3. Consultation on problems. If clarification of the definitions and instructions is needed, please consult the Survey Director, Mr. Curtis O. Baker, National Center for Education Statistics, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20202. You may reach Mr. Baker by telephone: (202) 245-8392.

4. Returning forms. Completed report forms should be addressed: Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Education Division, ATTN: Room 2164-HEGIS, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20202.

5. Major changes. If the number of enrollments you report in any area is significantly larger or smaller than the number you reported last year, it will be most helpful if you will include explanatory notes on the form or on an accompanying sheet of paper. If students are enrolled in a discipline specialty new to your institution this year, please indicate this by circling the "line number" in column 3.

6. Please verify your entries and check all the addition before returning the form.

7. SEPARATE SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS ARE PROVIDED FOR PARTS A AND B.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PART A: STUDENTS ENROLLED FOR FIRST-PROFESSIONAL DEGREES IN SELECTED FIELDS

See also the statement of "Survey Coverage" and the "General Instructions" for the survey.

Part A is restricted to enrollments for the first-professional degree in each of the 8 professions listed there. A first-professional degree is defined herein as one which meets all three of the following criteria: (1) it signifies completion of the academic requirements to begin practice in the profession; (2) it is based on a program which requires at least 2 years of college work prior to entrance; and (3) a total of at least 6 academic years of college work is required to complete the degree program, including prior required college work plus the length of the professional curriculum itself.

The "Other" category is to be used only in the event that there are enrollments for first-professional degrees within the 8 professions other than those specifically named in connection with those professions.

For each of the 8 disciplines, degrees other than first-professional are to be reported in Part B. (See "Survey Coverage," paragraph B.)

In columns 4-7 report those students who have completed the previous college work (pre-professional training) required for admission to the professional school but who, prior to this term, had completed less than two semesters or three quarters of full-time study or the equivalent in part-time study in the professional school. Note that these students are identified by the amount of study completed prior to this term, rather than by the number of semesters or quarters in which they have been enrolled.

In columns 8-11 report students who have completed one or more years of required study. Report in these columns students who, prior to this term, had completed two semesters or three quarters or more of full-time study or the equivalent in part-time study for the professional degree.

Classification of enrollment by attendance status: A full-time student is one whose academic load in terms of course work or other activity (such as a thesis, research, or required teaching) is at least 75% of the load normally required of such students. Time spent by teaching fellows should be included only if such teaching is performed as a requirement for a degree. Employment which is not a part of the prescribed activity for a first-professional degree or time spent on work required because of lack of undergraduate background should not be counted as time spent on academic requirements. A part-time student is one who is carrying an academic schedule of less than three-fourths the normal load.

New Fields: Please circle the line number (column 3) if you are reporting students enrolled in a discipline specialty new to your institution this year. (See "General Instructions," paragraph 5.)

Foreign Students: Please answer the question on foreign students at the end of Part A. Foreign students are defined as all foreign nationals studying at institutions of higher education in the United States, regardless of whether or not they plan to remain in the United States.

Add-Checks: Before submission, please verify that the TOTAL column (column 12) is the sum of columns 4-11 for each line entry. In addition, the TOTAL line (line 14) should show the sums of all entries in columns 4-12.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PART B: UPPER–DIVISION STUDENTS ENROLLED FOR BACCALAUREATE, AND GRADUATE STUDENTS ENROLLED FOR MASTER'S AND HIGHER DEGREES, FALL 1975

See also the statement of "Survey Coverage" and the "General Instructions" for the survey.

1. TYPES OF ENROLLMENT. Report all upper-division students formally enrolled for baccalaureate degrees, and all graduate students enrolled for degrees beyond the baccalaureate, except for those selected first-professional degrees specified in Part A. First-professional enrollments not reportable in Part A should be reported here. Also report in Part B all students formally enrolled in programs for degrees beyond the first-professional level, and (on line 465 only) all students identifiable as being at the post-baccalaureate level, but not enrolled for degrees.

2. GROUPING OF DISCIPLINES. The major fields of study to be reported here fall in the following discipline divisions:

0100	Agriculture and Natural Resources
0200	Architecture and Environmental Design
0300	Area Studies
0400	Biological Sciences
0500	Business and Management
0600	Communications
0700	Computer and Information Sciences
0800	Education
0900	Engineering
1000	Fine and Applied Arts
1100	Foreign Languages
1200	Health Professions
1300	Home Economics
1400	Law
1500	Letters
1600	Library Science
1700	Mathematics
1800	Military Sciences
1900	Physical Sciences
2000	Psychology
2100	Public Affairs and Services
2200	Social Sciences
2300	Theology
4900	Interdisciplinary Studies

3. SKIPPING INAPPLICABLE DISCIPLINES. Skip those discipline divisions which are inapplicable to the programs of your institution. Many registrars, for example, will skip one or more of the following: 0100; 1200; 2300.

4. CLASSIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT BY MAJOR FIELD OF STUDY.

   (a) Specific Classification. Classify enrollments as specifically as the list of specialties in the broad discipline divisions of the report form permits. For example, report enrollment for an advanced degree in an "accounting" curriculum as Accounting (0502), NOT in Business and commerce, general (0501).

   (b) Majors of Students Preparing to Teach. The general rule is to classify enrollments according to the major area of specialization. This means, in general, that majors of students preparing to teach an academic subject, such as English, biology, or foreign languages, should be reported as appropriate in Letters, Biological Sciences, and Foreign Languages—NOT in Education. On the other hand, majors of students preparing to teach such special subjects as agriculture, art, music, etc. should be reported in Agricultural education (0899-1), Art education (0831), and Music education (0832).

   (c) Unlisted Fields of Study. When classifying a specialty which does not seem to fit into the list, the institution has two choices: (1) it can be listed by name under "other" if it represents an unlisted specialty, or (2) it can be placed in a "general" category if it covers several listed specialties.

   (d) General Majors. The term "general major" is used to designate diversified curriculums within an area of study. Ordinarily a general major should be reported in one of the general categories of the report form, such as Physical sciences, general (1901); Social sciences, general (2201); Humanities and social sciences (4903), etc. For example, a concentration in History-Government-Economics should be reported in Social sciences, general.

   (e) Interdisciplinary Studies. Code 4999 is for reporting fields of study which represent two or more broad discipline divisions; for example, Mass Communications, encompassing segments of psychology, education, business, journalism, social sciences, fine arts, etc., should be reported here. Specify the name of the interdisciplinary study when reporting in 4999.

5. CLASSIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT BY LEVEL OF STUDY.

   (a) An upper-division student is one who has completed more than one-half of a 4-year, or more than two-fifths of a 5-year, undergraduate program which terminates in a degree, usually measured by the number of credits earned as a proportion of the number of credits required for graduation.

   (b) A graduate student is one who holds a baccalaureate or first-professional degree, or equivalent, and is presently enrolled in a program which leads to a master's or higher degree.

(1) Students who have completed less than one full year of required study for an advanced degree: Report in columns 9-13 those students who, prior to this term, had completed less than two semesters or three quarters of full-time graduate study or the equivalent in part-time study. Note that these students are identified by the amount of study completed prior to this term, rather than by the number of semesters or quarters in which they have been enrolled.

(2) Students who have completed one or more years of required study for an advanced degree: Report in columns 14-18 those students who, prior to this term, had completed two semesters or three quarters or more of full-time study or the equivalent in part-time study.

6. CLASSIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT BY ATTENDANCE STATUS. A full-time student is one whose academic load in terms of course work or other activity (such as a thesis, research, or required teaching) is at least 75% of the load normally required of such students. Time spent by teaching fellows should be included only if such teaching is performed as a requirement for a degree. Employment which is not a part of the prescribed activity for a degree or time spent on work required because of lack of prerequisites should not be counted as time spent on academic requirements. A part-time student is one who is carrying an academic schedule of less than three-fourths the normal load.

7. NEW FIELDS. Please circle the line number (column 3) if you are reporting students enrolled in a discipline specialty new to your institution this year. (See "General Instructions," paragraph 5.)

8. EXHIBIT ITEMS. In each discipline, for graduate students enrolled for advanced degrees, please report counts for "first-time students in fall 1975," and "doctoral candidates who have completed all but dissertation." Please see explanation in the section on "Survey Coverage," paragraph D.

9. ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS. Please answer questions 1 and 2 at the end of Part B (lines 465 and 466). Question 1 pertains to graduate students not candidates for degrees.

Question 2 asks how many of the students in the total for Part B are foreign students. Foreign students are defined as all foreign nationals studying at institutions of higher education in the United States, regardless of whether or not they plan to remain in the United States.

10. ADD-CHECKS. Before submission, please verify that in each column the discipline totals add to the total in line 462; and also, for each line entry, that the columns add as follows:

Columns 4-7 inclusive = column 8
Columns 9-12 inclusive = column 13
Columns 14-17 inclusive = column 18
Columns 13 and 18 = column 19
